Subject: Kevin Aycock | Gridiron nomination

Fellow Gridiron members:

I have nominated Kevin Aycock for honorary membership in Gridiron for the Spring 2019 class. A copy of my nomination letter and his resume are attached.

I would be grateful if you would consider seconding my nomination. If you are willing to second the nomination, please send a seconding e-mail to the attention of Thomas Barrow at gridironsecretsociety@gmail.com and please copy me on the email. Seconding e-mails are due by Friday, January 11, 2019.

If you would also reach out to your network of friends in Gridiron that may know Kevin, I would appreciate your assistance in gathering the necessary seconds needed to get Kevin into the spring class.

As many of you know, Kevin has wanted to be a member of Gridiron since he was in Athens as a student in the late 1990's, so I am sure he will be an excellent student of Sartor Resartus. I am also confident that his credit line is sufficient to cover all of the meals he will need to pick up during the neophyte process...

Thank you for your consideration.

I can't make it either, Gents. I have a group coming in to play golf at East Lake the morning of the 17th. Not to mention I will likely be in Jackson, Georgia on the evening of the 16th for an execution . . .

Thanks, Trip and Catfish, for the kind invitation. I hear nothing but great things about Sage Valley. I look forward to hearing how it goes. Please keep me in mind for future retreat opportunities.

Good morning. Thanks for the reminder and for your patience. I have talked with Kirsten and told her what my proposed prioritization would be between 01RPI and 01SLB. She understands my reasoning and is OK with it, but she still thinks the training would be beneficial to her people, in particular, and others across the Law Department.

Here is my prioritization:

- 1st choice: Janene Browder
- 2nd choice: Macy McCarty
- 3rd Choice: Jasmyn Jackson

I have confirmed with Janene that she will be able to attend, if selected.

I don't have a priority ranking at the moment. I would like to talk with Kirsten and Dan, first. But, I would expect the priority to go to Dan's new attorney because Dan's section deals with a more complex array of clients. Janene, the new attorney in Dan's section, has handled some contested cases for DCH while a DCH employee (in other than CON cases). But, I think the matters she handled were very basic. On the other hand, Dan is about to lose Monica Niles—I assume you have received notice—and Janene is going to have to get up to speed quickly. This will be going on while Dan will be devoting more time to the PSC. I believe he is working on two rate cases in addition to Plant Vogtle. If you need a selection from me now, it will be Janene Browder in Dan's section.

Do you have a priority ranking?

On Apr 25, 2019, at 2:26 PM, Isaac Byrd <ibyrd@law.ga.gov> wrote:

Dennis, I have essentially 3 new lawyers, each of whom has little or no experience representing the State over the range of issues that attorneys in this office do. I asked Dan and Kirsten whether they wanted to recommend any of their attorneys and they both have recommended the new attorneys in their sections. In each case, I can see the training being very helpful, particularly since it comes soon after each of these attorneys joined the Law Department. The training sounds like it could serve some of the same purposes as the "New Lawyer" training the Law Department used to serve. I know I'll be lucky to get one, but I'm recommending Dan's and Kirsten's attorneys. If we are approved for one spot, we can figure out who should go from this level. If we get two spots, we would select one for Dan and one for Kirsten.

Thank you for your consideration of this request.

Please see the announcement below. Both of you have young lawyers for whom the above training may be beneficial. Please let me know if you would like any of your young lawyers to be considered for a spot. If you strongly support the candidacy of a lawyer in your section, please provide me with some supporting reasons. Thanks. I would like to have a response from you today.

NAGTRI National Training on Representation of State Agencies

July 9-10, 2019
Graduate Providence Hotel
Providence, RI

We are pleased to announce that nominations are now open for the NAGTRI National Training on Representation of State Agencies. Please find the details below. If you or anyone in your office has any questions, please email Kiersten Houseman at khouseman@naag.org.

- WHO: This conference is open to members of the attorney general community, and will be valuable to newer attorneys with less than 5 years of experience.
- WHAT: Representing state agencies is a core function of state attorneys general, and there are many aspects to that representation. The relationship between the attorney general's office and the client agency can be complicated by state constitutional or statutory law or custom. This training addresses issues faced by state agency attorneys, including contracting and procurement, open meeting and open records counseling, the role of the lawyer in administrative proceedings as legal adviser and/or administrative prosecutor; the use of alternative dispute resolution, the attorney/client relationship and ethical considerations of a public law practice, including possible divergence of interests between the agency and the attorney general's office.
- WHEN: The conference will begin in the morning on Tuesday, July 9 with registration and breakfast at 8:00 a.m., and end on Wednesday, July 10 at 1:00 p.m.

- WHERE: Graduate Providence Hotel, located at 11 Dorrance Street, Providence, RI 02903.
- HOW: Through funding provided by the Mission Foundation and the NAGTRI Endowment Fund, NAGTRI will provide a limited number of scholarships to selected participants to attend the training. Offices are not guaranteed a slot; though NAGTRI makes every effort to accept nominees from as many states as possible for each training. Scholarship recipients will be funded for one round-trip coach air or train fare from their home city to the training destination, hotel accommodations, meals at the federal per diem rate, and transportation from the airport to the hotel. NAGTRI does not reimburse for transportation to the airport from a participant's home or office, parking at a participant's home airport, or airline baggage fees.

If there is more than one applicant from a state, we ask that the state "rank" them in the order of acceptance. Students must attend the whole training in order to receive scholarship funds.

I can't make it either, Gents. I have a group coming in to play golf at East Lake the morning of the 17th. Not to mention I will likely be in Jackson, Georgia on the evening of the 16th for an execution . . .

Thanks, Trip and Catfish, for the kind invitation. I hear nothing but great things about Sage Valley. I look forward to hearing how it goes. Please keep me in mind for future retreat opportunities.

Subject: Follow up to the Bar Grievances

Ms. Oglesby,

Can someone please tell me where the letter is regarding the outcome of the State Bar of Georgia's reconsideration of the grievances I filed against Paula Fredericks, Jeff Davis, Cary Ichter whom embezzled my $300,000.00 (three hundred thousand dollars), Elizabeth T. Baer, Patricia Anne Roy and Jonathan Hewitt. You were the person, who sent me the letter claiming that, it was going to be addressed in late January at the meeting of the Bar of Governors/Disciplinary committee retreat.

Last week, I was told by Mr. NeSmith, that a letter was sent to me, which detailed the outcome. However, I have yet to receive it. I believe that someone is deliberately withholding it, or Mr, Nesmith misrepresented a material fact and the Bar, has no intention to discipline anyone in this matter. Therefore, knowing the type of fraud (misrepresentation of material facts), that some individuals within the office of The Office of the General Counsel, for The State Bar of Georgia tends to engage in when convenient, I'm contacting the Bar of Governors to follow up. I want to be absolutely sure, that the State Bar has no intention, to do what is right, or required by their own rules of professional conduct.

Please email me a copy of the alleged letter that has allegedly been in the mail for almost a month, no later than this evening. Also, be advised that if I do not receive this letter, or email. I will assume that it never existed and do, what is legally necessary to rectify this matter.

I should not have to beg the State Bar of Georgia, hierarchy (Governors) and take legal action to force the office of the general counsel to do its job. However, if I have to, I'm prepared to do so. Therefore, I'm expecting an email copy of the letter, by this evening.

In my opinion the Bar leadership needs replacing with corporate executives that hold a J.D., or possibly retired law professors. Because, Lawyers disciplining and sitting in judgement of lawyers in the state of Georgia is obviously not working, the attorneys in Georgia are out of control and you people pretend like it's okay...

I travel a lot, and whenever I speak to Judges, or lawyers from outside of the state of Georgia and tell them what I'm witnessing within the state of Georgia, they are in shock and disbelief. Today I heard about a case, a Judge forced a paralyzed 9 year old who also can't speak, after an auto accident; to represent herself after allowing her attorneys to quit after around six weeks, on product liability, a case that carried strict liability.

After doing some research for my film, to my disbelief I find out that one of the defendants lawyers litigating and filing motions against this 9 year old sits on the board of Governors. Hello Ms. Anita Wallace Thomas, you should be ashamed of your Aunt Jemima self.. I just heard the court room recording of you litigating against that unrepresented 9 year old and her family. Her dad was asking the Judge "where's my daughters lawyer" and you would not quit trying to defraud them and the judge was in on it until she realized she was caught defrauding this little girl.

I can't believe that You really took depositions in a case with an unrepresented individual, and from what I heard on the tape you were filing motions against the plaintiff a unrepresented 9 year old, despite her father repeatedly asking and telling the Judge that his daughter has no lawyer.

This is what lawyering has come to in the state of Georgia under the likes of Paula Fredericks and Jeff Davis? I have come to the conclusion that allowing attorneys to sit in judgment of attorneys within the state of Georgia is akin to allowing child molesters to discipline each other....It is Sickening!!!!!! Send me my letter please

Help us pass legislation to:

- 1) Exempt public schools from paying Vogtle construction costs on their power bills,
- 2) Stop landlords from retaliating against tenants who report unhealthy living conditions.

There are just eight legislative days left before crossover day, when bills must pass at least one chamber to stay alive for the session, and we are asking you to make two important calls this week:

School exemption for Vogtle Tariff - Vote YES!

Senate Bill 112, introduced by State Senator Lindsey Tippins (R-37), is scheduled for a hearing in the Senate Regulated Industries committee this Thursday, February 28, at 3:00 pm, in Room 450 at the Capitol. This legislation would exempt public and state charter schools from paying for Plant Vogtle construction on their power bills. SB 112 is co-signed by Regulated Industries Chairman Senator Bill Cowser (R-46) and our Consumer Champion, Senator Chuck Hufstetler (R-52). We strongly support this legislation. Contact members of the Regulated Industries committee today to urge them to vote "YES" on SB 112 because school money should be for educating students, not building power plants!

Increase access to healthy housing - Vote YES!

HB 346, introduced by Rep. Sharon Cooper (R-43), prohibits retaliation against tenants who complain of unsafe and unhealthy housing conditions to Code Enforcement. This bill seeks to protect families living in rental units facing mold, leaking roofs, rats, insect infestations, lead, radon and unsafe electrical and other conditions when they exercise their right to seek repairs and complain to code enforcement. HB 346 is scheduled for a hearing today, February 26, at 4:00 pm in Room 132 of the Capitol. Please contact members of the House Judiciary (Civil) Subcommittee Members of the House Judiciary

Committee, Kelley Subcommittee and urge them to vote YES on HB 346:

Rep. Jay Powell - jay.powell@house.ga.gov

To Save a Nuclear Plant, Trump Taps the Solyndra Loan Program He Tried to Cut

• $3.7 billion loan guarantee a key lifeline for nuclear project

• Aid to Southern Co. raises concerns with taxpayer watchdogs

President Donald Trump is dipping into a federal loan program that his administration has repeatedly sought to kill as a way to rescue a struggling nuclear power project in Georgia that critics say poses a credit risk to U.S. taxpayers.

The Trump administration announced Friday it's finalizing a $3.7 billion loan guarantee for two nuclear reactors being built by Southern Co. Called Plant Vogtle, it's the only nuclear facility under construction in the U.S. and one seen as vital for an industry that's lagged due to competition from cheaper natural gas and renewable energy.

"This is the real new green deal," Energy Secretary Rick Perry said Friday during a visit to the site near Waynesboro, Georgia, alongside Georgia Governor Brian Kemp and Southern Chief Executive Officer Tom Fanning. "If you want clean energy that helps your environment, there is no source that is cleaner than nuclear energy. This is it."

The source of the aid is an Energy Department loan program that's been in the cross-hairs of the Trump team since before his inauguration, when his transition team saw it as corporate welfare. Trump has asked Congress to ax the program for three years running, including in the budget submitted this month, arguing that financing provided by the fund should come from the private sector instead.

Earlier: Trump to Finalize $3.7 Billion in Aid for Troubled Nuclear Plant

“It seems to be if it’s good for our friends, it’s good policy,” said Jeff Navin, who served as acting chief of staff for Ernest Moniz, President Barack Obama’s energy secretary. “And when it’s bad for our friends, it’s bad policy.”

The loan program is best known for backing a half-billion-dollar loan guarantee to failed solar-panel maker Solyndra LLC, but it’s also issued a $465 million loan to automaker Tesla Inc. and backed some of the first large-scale U.S. solar photovoltaic farms, among other clean technologies. Overall the program has generated more than $2.5 billion in interest for the federal government and has loan-loss ratio of 3.1 percent, according to Energy Department data.

“The only justification for eliminating the program is pure ideology,” said Navin.

The White House Office of Management referred questions to the Energy Department, which didn’t respond to requests for comment.

$28 Billion Tab

Supporters of Plant Vogtle say Trump is helping to keep alive a project started by the Obama administration that’s needed to help the U.S. remain competitive in the field of carbon-free nuclear power.

“With the top going onto unit 3 at Vogtle, we have the most difficult work behind us,” Tim Echols, a member of the Georgia Public Service Commission that has backed the project, said in an email. The aid to Southern and its partners building the plant comes on top of a record $8.3 billion in loan guarantees inked by the Obama administration for the project, bringing the total amount of exposure to taxpayers to $12 billion.

That’s raised concerns among watchdog groups and critics of the project, which is supposed to be completed in late 2022, who are questioning the wisdom of more government loans.

“It would be a gross understatement to say this decision is fiscally reckless,” said Ryan Alexander, president of Taxpayers for Common Sense, a non-partisan group based in Washington. “Putting the full faith and credit of the U.S. Treasury behind a project after it’s been plagued by skyrocketing costs and multi-year delays is an unjustifiable handout to the well-heeled Southern Company and its partners. Throwing good money after bad is never good policy.”

Behind Schedule

The project, which is more than five years behind schedule and has doubled in cost to $28 billion, was dealt a major setback after contractor Westinghouse Electric Co. went bankrupt in 2017. Southern assumed responsibility for managing construction of the project after that.

Southern’s Georgia Power utility disclosed in August that costs had increased by another $2.3 billion for the entire project, leading its primary municipal co-owners, Oglethorpe Power Corp. and Municipal Electric Authority of Georgia, to consider pulling out. Southern agreed to take on an additional portion of the financial risk for the project if estimated costs jump beyond current levels and gained more control over the fate of the plant as part of a deal to move forward on the project.

‘Size and Complexity’

“Although the project appears to have made considerable progress over time, I think that given its size and complexity one should be cautious in coming to any firm conclusions as what the ultimate project execution will be at this point,” Paul Patterson, an analyst for Glenrock Associates LLC, said in an email.

A staff report on the project by the Georgia Public Service Commission in November of last year said “direct construction” of the project was 50 percent complete and concluded that “at this time the status of the project is uncertain.”

A Southern spokesman said “significant progress” continues at the site and that it remains on track the project for completion by November 2022.

Subject: Follow up to the Bar Grievances

Ms. Oglesby,

Can someone please tell me where the letter is regarding the outcome of the State Bar of Georgia's reconsideration of the grievances I filed against Paula Fredericks, Jeff Davis, Cary Ichter whom embezzled my $300,000.00 (three hundred thousand dollars), Elizabeth T. Baer, Patricia Anne Roy and Jonathan Hewitt. You were the person, who sent me the letter claiming that, it was going to be addressed in late January at the meeting of the Bar of Governors/Disciplinary committee retreat.

Last week, I was told by Mr. NeSmith, that a letter was sent to me, which detailed the outcome. However, I have yet to receive it. I believe that someone is deliberately withholding it, or Mr, Nesmith misrepresented a material fact and the Bar, has no intention to discipline anyone in this matter. Therefore, knowing the type of fraud (misrepresentation of material facts), that some individuals within the office of The Office of the General Counsel, for The State Bar of Georgia tends to engage in when convenient, I'm contacting the Bar of Governors to follow up. I want to be absolutely sure, that the State Bar has no intention, to do what is right, or required by their own rules of professional conduct.

Please email me a copy of the alleged letter that has allegedly been in the mail for almost a month, no later than this evening. Also, be advised that if I do not receive this letter, or email. I will assume that it never existed and do, what is legally necessary to rectify this matter.

I should not have to beg the State Bar of Georgia, hierarchy (Governors) and take legal action to force the office of the general counsel to do its job. However, if I have to, I'm prepared to do so. Therefore, I'm expecting an email copy of the letter, by this evening.

In my opinion the Bar leadership needs replacing with corporate executives that hold a J.D., or possibly retired law professors. Because, Lawyers disciplining and sitting in judgement of lawyers in the state of Georgia is obviously not working, the attorneys in Georgia are out of control and you people pretend like it's okay...

I travel a lot, and whenever I speak to Judges, or lawyers from outside of the state of Georgia and tell them what I'm witnessing within the state of Georgia, they are in shock and disbelief. Today I heard about a case, a Judge forced a paralyzed 9 year old who also can't speak, after an auto accident; to represent herself after allowing her attorneys to quit after around six weeks, on product liability, a case that carried strict liability.

After doing some research for my film, to my dis belief I find out that one of the defendants lawyers litigating and filing motions against this 9 year old sit's on the board of Governors. Hello Ms. Anita Wallace Thomas, you should be ashamed of your Aunt Jemima self.. I just heard the court room recording of you litigating against that unrepresented 9 year old and her family. Her dad was asking the Judge "where's my daughters lawyer" and you would not quit trying to defraud them and the judge was in on it until she realized she was caught defrauding this little girl.

I can't believe that You really took depositions in a case with an unrepresented individual, and from what I heard on the tape you were filing motions against the plaintiff a unrepresented 9 year old, despite her father repeatedly asking and telling the Judge that his daughter has no lawyer.

This is what lawyering has come to in the state of Georgia under the likes of Paula Fredericks and Jeff Davis? I have come to the conclusion that allowing attorneys to sit in judgment of attorneys within the state of Georgia is akin to allowing child molesters to discipline each other....It is Sickening!!!!!! • $3.7 billion loan guarantee a key lifeline for nuclear project

• Aid to Southern Co. raises concerns with taxpayer watchdogs

President Donald Trump is dipping into a federal loan program that his administration has repeatedly sought to kill as a way to rescue a struggling nuclear power project in Georgia that critics say poses a credit risk to U.S. taxpayers.

The Trump administration announced Friday it's finalizing a $3.7 billion loan guarantee for two nuclear reactors being built by Southern Co. Called Plant Vogtle, it's the only nuclear facility under construction in the U.S. and one seen as vital for an industry that's lagged due to competition from cheaper natural gas and renewable energy.

"This is the real new green deal," Energy Secretary Rick Perry said Friday during a visit to the site near Waynesboro, Georgia, alongside Georgia Governor Brian Kemp and Southern Chief Executive Officer Tom Fanning. "If you want clean energy that helps your environment, there is no source that is cleaner than nuclear energy. This is it."

The source of the aid is an Energy Department loan program that's been in the cross-hairs of the Trump team since before his inauguration, when his transition team saw it as corporate welfare. Trump has asked Congress to ax the program for three years running, including in the budget submitted this month, arguing that financing provided by the fund should come from the private sector instead.

Earlier: Trump to Finalize $3.7 Billion in Aid for Troubled Nuclear Plant

"It seems to be if its good for our friends, it's good policy," said Jeff Navin, who served as acting chief of staff for Ernest Moniz, President Barack Obama's energy secretary. "And when it's bad for our friends, it's bad policy."

The loan program is best known for backing a half-billion-dollar loan guarantee to failed solar-panel maker Solyndra LLC, but it's also issued a $465 million loan to automaker Tesla Inc. and backed some of the first large-scale U.S. solar photovoltaic farms, among other clean technologies. Overall the program has generated more than $2.5 billion in interest for the federal government and has loan-loss ratio of 3.1 percent, according to Energy Department data.

"The only justification for eliminating the program is pure ideology," said Navin.

The White House Office of Management referred questions to the Energy Department, which didn't respond to requests for comment.

$28 Billion Tab

Supporters of Plant Vogtle say Trump is helping to keep alive a project started by the Obama administration that's needed to help the U.S. remain competitive in the field of carbon-free nuclear power.

"With the top going onto unit 3 at Vogtle, we have the most difficult work behind us," Tim Echols, a member of the Georgia Public Service Commission that has backed the project, said in an email. The aid to Southern and its partners building the plant comes on top of a record $8.3 billion in loan guarantees inked by the Obama administration for the project, bringing the total amount of exposure to taxpayers to $12 billion.

That's raised concerns among watchdog groups and critics of the project, which is supposed to be completed in late 2022, who are questioning the wisdom of more government loans.

"It would be a gross understatement to say this decision is fiscally reckless," said Ryan Alexander, president of Taxpayers for Common Sense, a non-partisan group based in Washington. "Putting the full faith and credit of the U.S. Treasury behind a project after it's been plagued by skyrocketing costs and multi-year delays is an unjustifiable handout to the well-heeled Southern Company and its partners. Throwing good money after bad is never good policy."

Behind Schedule

The project, which is more than five years behind schedule and has doubled in cost to $28 billion, was dealt a major setback after contractor Westinghouse Electric Co. went bankrupt in 2017. Southern assumed responsibility for managing construction of the project after that.

Southern's Georgia Power utility disclosed in August that costs had increased by another $2.3 billion for the entire project, leading its primary municipal co-owners, Oglethorpe Power Corp. and Municipal Electric Authority of Georgia, to consider pulling out. Southern agreed to take on an additional portion of the financial risk for the project if estimated costs jump beyond current levels and gained more control over the fate of the plant as part of a deal to move forward on the project.

'Size and Complexity'

"Although the project appears to have made considerable progress over time, I think that given its size and complexity one should be cautious in coming to any firm conclusions as what the ultimate project execution will be at this point," Paul Patterson, an analyst for Glenrock Associates LLC, said in an email.

A staff report on the project by the Georgia Public Service Commission in November of last year said "direct construction" of the project was 50 percent complete and concluded that "at this time the status of the project is uncertain."

A Southern spokesman said "significant progress" continues at the site and that it remains on track the project for completion by November 2022.

Mission

- The mission of the Georgia Emergency Management and Homeland Security Agency is to facilitate the protection of life and property against man-made and natural disasters by directing the state's efforts in the areas of prevention, preparedness, mitigation, response, and recovery.

What We Do

- The Georgia Emergency Management and Homeland Security Agency coordinates the state's preparedness, response and recovery efforts to disasters. As part of the Office of the Governor, GEMA/HS operates under the authority of the Emergency Management Act of 1981. GEMA/HS works with local, state and federal governments, in partnership with the private sector and faith-based community, to prevent and respond to natural and man-made emergencies. In addition, GEMA/HS employees are on 24-hour call statewide to assist local authorities when disaster strikes.

THIRA

The THIRA is a three-step risk assessment completed every three years. It helps communities answer the following questions:

- What threats and hazards can affect our community?
- If they occurred, what impacts would those threats and hazards have on our community?
- Based on those impacts, what capabilities should our community have?

Mark McDonough made a motion to approve the minutes. Adjutant General Joe Jarrard seconded the motion. The motion passed unanimously.

Super Bowl LIII Update:

Harlan Proveaux with GEMA/HS provided an update on the ongoing efforts to prepare for Super Bowl LIII. This is an Atlanta Police Department event and the state agencies are here to support them with anything they need. There will be fourteen Emergency Operation Centers (EOC) activated across the city, including the State Operation Center (SOC) at GEMA/HS.

Chief Erika Shields thanked everyone for their assistance and support with Super Bowl LIII.

Phillip Peacock discussed Georgia Power’s involvement with the Super Bowl. They will be providing equipment, deputies, and other resources within the critical zone.

Michael Nix with the Georgia Emergency Communications Authority (GECA) provided an update on the statewide communications system. They are looking at the radio systems around the state and identifying the needs. GECA will be partnering with the local entities to build out communications. Currently, there are 153 different 9-1-1 centers in operation around the state. GECA is changing the way the 9-1-1 centers are being funded. The payments will now be processed through the Department of Revenue.

Scott Minarcine with the Georgia Department of Public Health notified the board that Commissioner Pat O'Neal will be the acting Fulton County Department of Health during the Super Bowl.

New Business:

a) Future Meeting Dates & Locations

As a default, all future Board of Homeland Security meetings will be held at GEMA/HS Headquarters. Col. Mark McDonough noted that the Board of Public Safety meets on the second Thursday of every month. Also, the Department of Public Health meets on the first Tuesday of the month. The next board meeting will be scheduled around the legislative session.

b) Creation of Standing Committees

At the next meeting, the board can take a vote on what they think is best. Vice Chairperson Homer Bryson suggested a standing committee relating to intelligence and looking at threats. Director Scott Dutton with the GBI proposed a committee on cybersecurity and networks or infrastructure. Executive Director Calvin Rhodes with GTA discussed sharing information with the Fusion Center and the Cyber Center located in Augusta, GA. Standing Committees will be on the agenda for next month's meeting. If the board agrees on committees, then see which committee members would like to be a part of.

The Board of Homeland Security held the board meeting on December 3, 2018 at the Coverdell Legislative Office Building in Atlanta, Georgia. A List of Attendees, the Agenda, and the Proposed By-Laws are attached hereto and made official parts of these minutes as Attachments #1, #2, and #3. Director Homer Bryson called the meeting to order at 1:34 PM.

All board members are present except Commissioner Gary Black with the Georgia Department of Agriculture.

Director Bryson with Georgia Emergency Management and Homeland Security Agency (GEMA/HS) welcomed everyone to the Coverdell Legislative Office Building (CLOB) in Atlanta, Georgia. Moving forward, the Board of Homeland Security will supersede the Homeland Security Task Force. The Board plans to discuss the opportunity to invite other entities to the meetings to participate.

Board Member Introductions

Division Overview

Harlan Proveaux is the Deputy Director of Homeland Security with GEMA/HS. He provided an organization overview of the Homeland Security Division at GEMA/HS. The Operations Section includes the Homeland Security Coordinators that have an assigned area across the State. Their main focus right now is school safety and they provide site assessments for the schools. GEMA/HS is working with the Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI) to identify, mitigate, investigate, and prosecute homeland security and terrorism related incidents within the State of Georgia. In order to do this, the Homeland Security Coordinators will be deputized as GBI Task Force Agents for activities that require law enforcement authority to investigate and mitigate threats to Georgia. The swearing-in ceremony is planned to take place next week.

GEMA/HS has an intelligence position in operations at the Georgia Information Sharing and Analysis Center (GISAC) that assists with homeland security issues. There is also a Homeland Security Information Network (HSIN) Coordinator that serves at GISAC on staff. So far, these eight people have taught 163 Stop the Bleed courses, taught 91 active shooter CRASE courses, helped with 98 safety plans, gave 38 school board presentations, completed 73 safety drills, and 458 site assessments to date across the state.

The Critical Infrastructure and Key Resource (CIKR) Section conduct surveys and assessments of various critical infrastructure and key resources across Georgia. The surveys and assessments are used to determine the security and resiliency of the particular location.

There are ten Georgia Search and Rescue (GSAR) Task Forces across the State. They are responsible for locating, extricating, providing immediate medical treatment to victims trapped in collapsed structures, and other life-saving operations.

The Homeland Security Division also handles Agroterrorism. GEMA/HS coordinates with the Georgia Department of Agriculture on food defense projects. They also deal with BioWatch to monitor the air quality of the State. GEMA/HS has a veterinarian on staff that is a subject matter expert on animal diseases.

There are fifty-five EOD K9 Units around the State. Next month, it will be increased to sixty-three teams. They are highly trained detection dogs used for special events and bomb detection around the State. GEMA/HS has set their own standards for the EOD K9 Units. They have conducted 2,821 sweeps, participated in 134 events, 205 bomb threats, 618 unattended or suspicious package calls, worked 408 administrations, and 21 gun finds to date around the state.

The Training and Exercise Division is housed at the Georgia Public Safety Training Center (GPSTC) in Forsyth, Georgia. They help prepare emergency managers and first responders in training and exercises. They have completed 680 training courses, which is 9,579 instructional hours to 14,348 participants. They have conducted 21 exercises to 1,003 participants. The Training and Exercise Division are working to get the Incident Management Teams back up and running. Currently, there are 32 trained people willing to be on the team. There is an additional 38 people in training.

The Homeland Security Division now has a Special Projects position. They are currently preparing for Super Bowl LIII and coordinating over 500 law enforcement personnel for the Georgia World Congress Center.

There has been an 89% decrease in federal funding for Homeland Security since 2004. GEMA/HS has built some capabilities over the years that has increased cost. There are Urban Areas Security Initiative (USAI) funds that flow through the agency. GEMA/HS is working with the Atlanta Regional Commission to ensure that the funds do not overlap.

GEMA/HS has a Threat and Hazard Identification and Risk Assessment (THIRA) that is completed by the Georgia Institute of Technology every year. The Homeland Security grant funds are based on the THIRA to determine what the true threat is in Georgia.

The agency has great partnerships with all of the State agencies represented on this Board. GEMA/HS looks forward to continuing those partnerships and what comes out of this Board to help keep the citizens of Georgia safe.

Mission and By-Laws

Joey Greene is the General Counsel with GEMA/HS went over the Mission of this Board. The Mission is codified in 38-3-42 of the Georgia Code and it is four-fold: to advise, strategize, coordinate, and plan. The Board of Homeland Security advises the Governor on homeland security matters throughout the State. The Board is tasked with creating a state-wide strategy for homeland security. This will focus on protecting against, responding to, and recovering from domestic terrorism. There will be a special emphasis on how to mitigate these hazards moving forward. The Board will help coordinate homeland security activities with local, state, federal, and private sector partners. Within the state-wide strategy, there will be plans for eight key components:

- 1) Intelligence gathering
- 2) Reducing the State's vulnerability of domestic terrorism
- 3) Protecting critical infrastructure
- 4) Protecting the State's ports and airports
- 5) Detecting, detouring, and defending against domestic terrorism, cyber terrorism, biological terrorism, chemical terrorism, and nuclear terrorism
- 6) Figuring out how to position equipment, people, and technology across the State to combat domestic terrorism
- 7) Helping the GISAC form authorities to help GEMA/HS implement the strategy
- 8) Using technology to accomplish the first seven components

Each member of the Board of Homeland Security received a copy of the proposed By-Laws. The Board will vote on the By-Laws at the next meeting in January of 2019. As a placeholder it was included that the Board will meet four times a year, this can be adjusted as the Board sees fit. In the second portion, it mentions non-voting advisory personnel and the ability to utilize them in committee meetings and/or full Board meetings by special or standing invitation only. It is important to have the ability to incorporate experts even in closed meetings.

Additional Comments:

Director Bryson asked the Board to identify other agencies that would be appropriate to involve in the planning and work on draft plans for final approval of the Board.

Senator Cowser suggested that the Board may need meet more than quarterly at first to help with coordination of all the agencies. Also, to be an effective and informed member of this Board they will need security clearances for sensitive topics.

Director Bryson added that GEMA/HS was discussing the security clearances and see who needs to apply for those clearances. The next meeting will be scheduled for early January to adopt the By-Laws and the election of officers. Look at Wednesdays for Board Meetings.

Colonel McDonough suggested adding a clause about Board Member attendance or excused absences to the By-Laws.

Director Keenan and the Georgia Bureau of Investigation (GBI) has been working with GEMA/HS to conduct a statewide in-person survey law enforcement agencies to collect information of what their issues are in their jurisdiction and how they are handling them. Once completed, all the surveys will be compiled and brought to the Board of Homeland Security. The GBI has assigned a supervisor and an agent to the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) at the Atlanta Airport to focus on terrorism issues. There will be a statewide training program from the FBI and the U.S. Department of Homeland Security to teach law enforcement officers on how to handle an encounter with someone on the terrorism watch list. GBI has partnered with DPS and GEMA/HS to create the See Something, Send Something phone application that can send information to GISAC. Then that information is processed and is sent to the appropriate agency.

Chief Erika Shields asked for feedback on any deficiencies or what has not worked in the past.

Director Bryson invited Board Members to the GEMA/HS Open House on December 12, 2018 at 1:00 PM. The Swearing-In Ceremony for the at-large members of the Board of Homeland Security will take place at 3:00 PM in the Governor's Office. The other Board members are welcome to attend the ceremony.

Adjournment:

There being no further business to be brought before the Board, Director Bryson adjourned the meeting at 2:20 PM.
